Why Horses Can Be Dangerous

Domesticated, well-trained horses are usually obedient, docile and affectionate. However, they are instinctively “flight animals,” and their natural instincts and size can be dangerous to people. For example:

1. Horses are unpredictable, with minds of their own, and they are often somewhat high strung or nervous.
2. Horses are very strong and powerful, and they are extremely heavy, weighing from 600 to 1300 pounds on average.
3. When a horse is frightened, stressed or feels threatened, it may:
  - Suddenly jump forward or sideways, knocking down or running into people or obstacles.
  - Run away at speeds up to 35 miles per hour.
  - Buck or rear up in a way that could throw a rider to the ground or into an obstacle.
  - Bite or kick.

Safe Behavior Around Horses

To help prevent injuries and/or death, I agree to follow carefully all instructions given to me by Lynnwood Equestrian Center regarding horse behavior and handling. I agree to follow carefully all Lynnwood Equestrian Center rules and to use tack and other equipment only as directed by Lynnwood Equestrian Center.

Release and Hold Harmless Agreement for Parents or Guardians

We are the lawful parents or guardians of _____ (name of child) and have all legal rights to sign this agreement on behalf of our child and ourselves. Accordingly, we have reviewed the risks that our child will be undertaking in visiting Lynnwood Equestrian Center and engaging in horse-related activities through Lynnwood Equestrian Center, including the risk of negligence. Personal property on the Lynnwood Equestrian Center premises, including automobiles, is subject to theft, damage or loss. We expressly agree, on behalf of ourselves, our child, our child’s heirs and legal representatives to assume these risks and not to sue the Lynnwood Equestrian Center Parties or otherwise make a claim against such parties, and we release the Lynnwood Equestrian Center Parties, in connection with any injury or death occurring on the Lynnwood Equestrian Center premises or in connection with any Lynnwood Equestrian Center activities, or in connection with any damage to or loss of personal property. In addition, we will defend, indemnify and hold the Lynnwood Equestrian Center Parties harmless against all claims, demands, and causes of action, including court costs and attorneys’ fees, directly or indirectly arising from any action or other proceedings brought by or prosecuted for our benefit or our child’s benefit. This release and hold harmless shall apply whether the matter to which it applies arises under contract, tort, (including active or passive negligence of the Lynnwood Equestrian Center Parties) or otherwise.
